GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

The most extensive string quartered at the Gravesend track is that trained by G. B. Morris. The youngsters are California bred, and, like others from the same state that are wintering in this vicinity, are a conspicuously good looking lot. Though several of them have been troubled with a light form of influenza they are now in fine shape, and there is nothing to hinder them from racing up to their looks and breeding.

An inspection of the lot showed the string to consist of the following: Bay colt, by Star Ruby—Turney; chestnut colt, by Star Ruby—Bardetta; bay filly, by Salvator—Miss Woodford; bay colt, by Star Ruby—Nonage; brown colt, by Sir Modred—Queen Bess; bay colt, by Candlemas—School Girl, Pupil's dam; chestnut filly, by Watercross—Rosette; chestnut filly, by Salvator—Briar Bush; brown colt, by Candlemas—Bonnella; chestnut colt, by Order—Olive; chestnut colt, by Golden Garter—Scotch Fir; bay colt, by Sir Modred—Glendora; bay colt, by Star Ruby—Lucania, and a bay colt and a brown colt, by Fitzsimon.

The Star Ruby—Bardetta colt is a nicely finished chap and looks a racer all over. The Salvator—Miss Woodford filly is a lengthy, well-furnished miss and by far the best-looking filly the great mare has ever thrown. The Candlemas—School Girl colt is all right, and there is more of him than there was of his half-brother, Pupil, at the same age. The Star Ruby—Lucania colt is a fine individual, and surely ought to race a bit.

Aside from the above, Mr. Morris has the following lot, the property of J. G. Follansbee, in his charge: Bay filly, by Domino—Gloaming; brown colt, by Lissak—Finance; bay colt, by Fitz James—Jolliet; bay colt, by Star Ruby—Saloma; brown colt, by Watercross—Labia; chestnut colt, by July—Snow Drop; a chestnut colt and chestnut filly, by St. Simon, and a bay colt, by Cayuga. The Watercross—Labia colt should do on looks. The Domino—Gloaming filly has plenty of quality and the Star Ruby—Saloma colt is a good looker and has worked the fastest of the lot.—Morning Telegraph.

James Jewett, one of the most famous English trainers, died at Newmarket recently. An English turf writer, in sketching his career, says: He was born in 1855, was the son of a trainer, and first rode at West Drayton, where he met with his initial success on a two-year-old named Nelly, on October 15, 1888. Early in the seventies his weight made him unable to scale under 133 pounds, and in 1875 he turned his attention to the jumping department, training and riding this division of Captain Machell's stable, and scoring a number of important successes in his dual capacity.

"In 1880 Mr. Jewett succeeded Joseph Cannon as trainer of the large stable of flat racers over which Capt. Machell presided at Bedford Cottage, and his successes in this important position are undoubtedly too brilliant and too fresh in the memory of all lovers of the turf to need recapitulation. He trained for Mr. H. McCalmont, Mr. C. J. Blake, Lord Calthorpe, Lord Rodney and Lord Gerard, as well as for Captain Machell's own interests. Among his successes were Seabreeze's Oaks and St. Leger, Kilwarlin's St. Leger and Isinglass' tremendous series of three-year-old classics, 'ten thousand pounders' and Ascot Gold Cup, which event Jewett also won with Timothy and Trayles.

"Mr. Jewett considered Isinglass to be not only the best horse he had ever trained, but also the best horse he had ever seen. 'Nothing that ever stood on four legs could beat this horse,' was his confident assertion before the Ascot Cup of 1895, which saw Isinglass bid a glorious farewell to the race course. In the Princess of Wales Stakes in 1894, when Ladas came through above the distance and was hailed with shouts of 'Ladas wins!' Jewett cried out to a group of friends: 'Does he? You wait. They don't know what they're taking on!' And, sure enough, Isinglass wore Ladas down in the final struggle and had it almost all his own way in the last fifty yards or so. Jewett was capable and honest, genial and generous, and his death is a distinct loss to our turf."

Eugene Leigh has a fine trio of yearlings in his establishment at Gravesend and assistant trainer Kelly takes great pleasure in showing them off. A youngster by Luke Blackburn—The Duchess, which has a great reputation at the track, is easily the best on looks. He is a blood bay of good size, fine in quality, and is a half brother to Clifford, whom he much resembles. He worked a furlong at Saratoga last summer in eleven seconds, and at Gravesend he reeled off the quarter mile route in 23 1/2 seconds. The trainers at the track think he will be a hard nut to crack next season. A bay filly, by St. George—Arrowgrass, Zanone's dam, and a good looking chestnut colt by Albert, complete the list of yearlings in Leigh's hands at the present time. In looking over the Leigh lot a two-year-old bay colt, by Bramble—Caledonia catches the eye. He is a grand looker, and from those who know him it can be learned that he was as fast as the wind and the sweetest mover that ever stepped over a race track. He developed a splint in the early part of the season and was let up, but now the firing needle having eradicated his trouble he may fulfil his promise of being a real clinker.

Early in November Gen. W. E. Jackson disposed of ten yearlings at public auction at Nashville for the following prices:
Bay colt, by Dandie Diamond—Prettiwit;
De Witt & Harper..... $150

NASHVILLE NOTES.

A gossip letter from Nashville to the Spirit of the Times contains the following items of interest:

Ed Moore's stable is wintering at Nashville and is composed of fifteen head, as follows: Loomam, 7; Dumbarton, 5; Ocie Brooks, 3; Rena Campbell, 3; Hieaway, 2; Aristio, 2; Lizzie Kelly, 3, and the following yearlings: Brown colt, by Fenelon; chestnut colt, by Fenelon; bay filly, by Longfish—Halloween; bay filly, by Longfish—Marie Reed; brown filly, by Longfish—Maria Barnes; bay filly, by Longfish—Tam Taw; chestnut filly, by Longfish—Fredie; bay gelding, by Longfish—Maud Moon.

The promising yearling in training here is a large, handsome filly by Loyalist—Lythe, by Enquirer. The filly is a member of Scott Harlan's stable. Her dam is a full sister to Egmont, a great race horse. She was brought to the track about the first of November and her first trial was a quarter in 0:24 1/2. Recently she negotiated the distance in 0:23 1/2. In the latter trial she carried 108 pounds, and the track was not in good condition.

Information, deemed reliable, comes from the Falls City to the effect that the Louisville Driving and Fair Association will give no more trotting meetings at its track. It is said certain race promoters will lease the course for the purpose of giving a running meeting next fall.

The following stables are in winter quarters here: S. E. Farmer, Ed Moore, Mannion & Connell, John Brannon, J. M. Johnson, Ed Doyle, George Hendrie, J. Milliron, S. P. Harlan, Harry Stover and H. McTeyere. Several other stables are expected here during the week.

The New Tennessee Breeders' Association is making many improvements at the track, all of which will be completed by the opening day of the spring meeting, April 28. It is said the association will not announce a trotting meeting for next fall.

The New Tennessee Breeders' Association has claimed April 28 to May 5 for its spring meeting.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Kriss Kringle is once more back in his old stable at Latonia. This crack selling plater was sold at auction during the Lexington sales to J. H. McAvoy, trainer for W. E. Applegate. Whether Mr. McAvoy will train the horse next season or not is a matter of doubt. At all events, the horse was brought back from Lexington and put in the stable of Dr. R. L. Bird, his former owner.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A yearling owned by Thomas Green has worked a remarkable first trial at Sheepshead Bay. The trainers and others who witnessed the trial believe this youngster, who is by Chorister—Harpichord, to be the best yearling tried at Sheepshead Bay.

Julius Bauer is wintering at Lexington. He has tried many yearlings during his career as trainer, but a black colt by St. George—Marie Jansen, by Kingfisher, is reported to be far away the superior to any infant racer that Mr. Bauer has ever handled.

Captain Sam Brown, of Pittsburg, who became the owner of Lady Inez at Woodard & Shanklin's sale, has decided to breed her next year to Top Gallant, and she is now at Mr. John B. Ewing's farm, near Lexington.

THE AMERICAN SPORTING MANUAL

The American Sporting Manual of 1899 is on general sale. It is a record of the turf, billiards, pugilism, trotting, racing and all the leading lines of sport up to January 1, 1899. All the matter within its pages have been compiled and edited by experts. It prints a list of all the turf and track records
(by DAILY RACING FORM's staff), billiard figures, past and present (by John Thatcher), the fights of 1898, with comments (by George Siler), harness records to date and of the past (by John Hervey, the statistician of The Horse Review) and three handicap tables, with directions for their application and expert comment.
The Manual, in paper covers, sells at 30 cents and in soft morocco covers at 50 cents.

RACING FORM'S SELECTIONS.

DAILY RACING FORM has no private information. It seeks none. Its calculations over the horses as they are grouped daily at various racetracks are purely those of general performance and ability as shown by the records and the application and knowledge of its editors and the reports of its correspondents. These calculations are printed daily. Nothing is hidden. All that the staff of the paper knows is put into type. If the selections made nightly are sought by persons outside the daily delivery lines of the paper they will be sent by Western Union night rate messages (collect) at $5 per track per week. Such service is not solicited, but if it is considered valuable, will be performed.

If a mare in this stake drops her foal before the first of January, or if she has a dead, or more than one foal, or is barren, the entry of such mare is void, and the subscription will be returned. By filing at any time with the California Jockey Club an accepted transfer of the produce, with its engagements in this stake accompanied with receipts for all former payments, the original subscriber will be released from any liability as to the engagements of the produce. Should a subscriber or transferee die before the race, the entry shall not be void provided it be assumed by the then owner of the horse, notice in writing to that effect being given within three months after such demise.
